Sears Best

1

(1 and 2) Our finest 8-ft. Pool Tables with oversize slate beds

BED AND SURFACE: Considered by most experts to be the finest playing surface available on pool tables, slate is unmatched for warp-resistance, Sears slate pool tables use only the finest slate, and the beds are cut oversize, extending under the rails, to give a solid, unitized table top. The rails are bolted directly on to the slate bed for extra-consistent rebounds. The all-steel bed frames on these tables are extremely strong and rigid (see story above). Two 6½-inch deep steel beams run the full length of the table; bolted on to these beams are 4 solid-steel cross-supports. The slate bed is bolted on to the cross-supports and is additionally buttressed with six steel blocks.

ASSEMBLY: The steel beam frame system on these tables allows for more precise pre-drilling of holes at the factory than tables with wooden frames. This, in turn, allows precise alignment of table components to ease assembly.
